

DAILY NEVADA STATE JOURNAL.

VOL. 7.

RENO, WASHOE COUNTY, NEVADA. THURSDAY MORNING, SEPTEMBER 20, 1877.

NO. 147.

INTERVIEW OF BEN THOMAS WREN, CONGRESSMAN ELECT.

(Canton Appeal, 1876.)
Hon. Thomas Wren, Congressman elect, who succeeds Hon. William Woodburn, from this State to the House of Representatives, at Washington, arrived in our city on Sunday morning last. Our reporter was sent in quest of the Congressman, to glean for the benefit of his constituency, some of his most salient views respecting the Administration, etc. Our representative was received with the greatest degree of civility at the Ormsby House by Mr. Wren, who expressed his willingness to impart all the information respecting his views and feelings desired for the readers of the Morning Appeal. The following are substantially his statements:

"Rep. Mr. Wren, what is your feeling in regard to the regard to the Southern policy of the President?"
Mr. Wren. Well, I think that Mr. Hayes is honest in the policy he has adopted. I believe that his course has been adopted with a view to perfect a more harmonious feeling between the two sections of our country; but I doubt whether his policy will terminate successfully in the end. His acts are irretrievable, and it would be suicidal to say the least, to institute a war against the Administration which is using its utmost efforts to create a more thorough and better feeling between the North and South. No possible good can accrue from a fierce opposition, while the result may not only rebound to the detriment of the Republican party, but against the best interests of the nation. I believe it to be the duty of every Republican, in both Houses, to act in harmony with the President. Rep. Do you think that the general policy of Mr. Hayes will encounter any material obstructions during the next regular session of Congress?"
Mr. Wren. I do not. I believe that the President's official conduct has met with the approval of the people at large.

Rep. What do you think the complexion of the next Senate will be?"
Mr. Wren. It is difficult to say. The Democrats may organize, if Senator Morton's health precludes his being present; but the general political outlook is a little cloudy. Yet I believe that both Democrats and Republicans will acquiesce in the President's policy, deeming it to be directed toward a better state of feeling than has been experienced for the past decade and a half. The most ultra Democrats throughout the country are endorsing the official acts of Mr. Hayes, and have faith in the conscientiousness of his purpose. I repose the most implicit confidence in his fealty to the Republican party, and regard him a sound Republican.

Rep. Will you sustain in the President in his past official acts?"
Mr. Wren. I will make no captious opposition to acts that have been carried into effect. His Southern policy overtures cannot be undone.

Rep. What are your views respecting the metallic monetary standard of the country?"
Mr. Wren. I am in favor of a double standard; not because I am a representative of a silver producing State, but on general principles; for the public weal. The demonetization act was slipped through Congress without the importance of the subject being taken under proper advisement, or with the requisite consideration. The result of the passage of that injudicious act was an injury to the poorer classes while it benefited only a few grasping speculators on Wall street. The question of single or double standard always had received insignificant attention at the hands of Congress until Senator Jones made the vitality of the subject felt.

Rep. The impression has gained ground that you favor the erection of public buildings in the eastern part of the State; is that true?"
Mr. Wren. No, Sir, it is not. I believe and have always expressed my conviction to that effect, that the Capital of the State is the proper place for Federal buildings, and I shall exert my influence to have them erected here if their construction prove necessary.

Rep. Do you think that the importance of this State will warrant the expenditure consequent upon the erection of public buildings?"
Mr. Wren. I do. Federal buildings have been erected in States of lesser importance, from every standpoint, and my firm belief is that Nevada should also have them.

Rep. When do you go East, Sir?"
Mr. Wren. I leave for Washington on the first proximo, to be there in time for the extra session of Congress, which meets on the 15th of October.

After a few further remarks our reporter finally thanked Mr. Wren and took his departure.

The San Francisco Mail says that some people refuse to give employment to those seeking it; that they have no work to do, notwithstanding that a situation of that kind is what the majority want.

WISE AND OTHERWISE.

The Fair which gets out the biggest handbill will be the most successful.

The Cincinnati Commercial advises "philanthropists" to keep away from that city. They are arrested on sight.

"Men are drowned by raising their arms above water," says the Scientific Monthly. Dosh! If a man can't swim he'll go down with his arms under water as soon as any other way. Dry land is an awful safe place.

The Norristown Herald doesn't believe that howling dogs bring bad luck. They generally bring brickbats—to the dog.

The season at Long Branch is to be extended two weeks. This is to give parties time to send home and make out new mortgages.

HARPER'S Bazar advises the readers to eat berries with a spoon. Some folks may have been in a habit of eating them with milk and sugar.

AMERICAN travelers in the Alps this year can crawl up to the top of their hotel bills and see the new East River bridge towers.—Graphic.

If women hold up their dresses to show their skirts why not cut the dresses off above the bottom of the skirts and thus save cloth and vexation.

The young lady who will answer the advertisement of the skunk who wants "a female correspondent" must either lack sense or have no character to lose.

A New Jersey mosquito lives eleven weeks, and doubles his size three times. Such chunks of science help to fill up the hole between Mars' moons.

It kind o' gives a pleasant thrill to hear an English doctor remark that he never knew a fool to have a cold in the head. How's your nose, neighbor?

New York proposes to stop the driving of wild cattle through her streets but wouldn't it be a better way to saw their horns off and lash pillows to their heads?

It won't be long now before men who can't tell a rutabaga from an old tin pail will go out to the county fairs and begin their orations with, "Fellow-farmers."

Somebody defends General Howard in the Philadelphia Bulletin from newspaper criticism. He had better go west and defend him from the Indians.—Rochester Chronicle.

Mr. Drutson, of Texas, asked his wife to hurry up dinner, and she took it so much to heart that she went out and hung herself. Husbands shouldn't be so particular about an hour or two.

Alexander Dumas charges fourteen per cent. interest when he loans money, and then turns around and writes: "Let us use our money to make people happy."

George Alfred Townsend writes: "You can still make a Philadelphia girl blush by staring at her." We don't blame her. Any one would have to blush at his stare.

It makes the Bank of England feel bad to see so much gold leaving for America, and it makes hundreds of Americans feel bad to think they can't get hold of a dollar of it.

The Cincinnati Commercial brags about Cincinnati having the nicest cemetery in the country. Cincinnati ought to have a nice cemetery. It is too dirty a town to live in.

That's undoubtedly true—the item that a New York State son paid the bill for the liquor which his father drank and then committed suicide. Sons are very good about such things you know.

Benjamin Franklin was a great man, but his wife treated him the same as if he was an ordinary mortal. If she wanted the wood-box filled up she didn't hesitate to ask him to shoulder the job.

Graphic says: "Here in this country a man hardly knows whether he is married or not." Dye a spouse Americans would stand what they do in the hall at 11 p. m. if they did not firmly believe they were married?

GRANT'S FUTURE MOVEMENTS.

General Grant and party will make a round of English provincial towns in the following order: Newcastle-on-Tyne, York, Sheffield, Birmingham and Leamington whence they will go to London. They expect to proceed to Paris on the 20th of October and stay six weeks. They will next visit Marseilles and Nice, and then Genoa. They will leave on board an American man-of-war to visit various parts of Spain, Malta, Sicily, Egypt and Turkey. In February the party will go to Naples, where they will stay a fortnight, and afterward spend a month in Rome; then return to Paris, visiting the principal towns of Italy. Paris will be reached again about the end of April. There they remain a month, afterward visit Denmark, Sweden, Norway, Russia and Austria, and finally visit Switzerland, which they hope to reach in September. Preparations are making in Newcastle-on-Tyne to receive General Grant this week. His visit will extend over the 21st and 22d. He will arrive on Thursday night and be the guest of the Mayor.

WASHINGTON NEWS.

The Inter Ocean Washington correspondent asked Secretary Sherman what answer he would give to Ohio men who ask leave of absence to go home from their Washington work to vote in Ohio. He said he should go himself, as is his privilege and duty, and would allow all others whose work could be left without detriment to do the same, but their furlough would be for four or five days instead of the usual ten days. The cabinet has decided this question for all departments.

The President will send only an informal message to Congress in October announcing the reasons why the extra session was called, and giving reports and estimates.

It is said Governor McCormick has been selected to represent the United States at the Paris exposition if Congress makes provision for such representation.

A Tribune Washington special says the Indian commissionership has been offered to E. B. Hoyt of New York and he has accepted it.

A PROPOSED DEMONSTRATION.—A movement has been started by representatives of the working classes for a grand demonstration tending to promote sympathy in behalf of the unemployed of San Francisco. It is proposed to have a procession through the streets, composed of the various trades organizations and workmen in general, and a mass meeting will be called during the week to arrange the features of the demonstration. The parties concerned in the movement declare that every precaution will be taken to prevent the participation of disorderly-disposed persons. A committee of the workmen waited upon Mayor Bryant in reference to the matter, and were assured of his hearty sympathy. His Honor hoped that many of the distressed would soon be able to obtain employment on public works.

The manufacture of boots and shoes in the Western States is increasing yearly and bids fair to out-tail the production of New England. It is said that the value of this class of goods now manufactured in the West amounts annually to $20,000,000, and the business has grown up within twenty years. In 1856 there were but three large shoe manufacturing establishments west of Massachusetts, two in Rochester, New York and one in Milwaukee, Wisconsin. They now number some 250 and are rapidly increasing.

THE OREGON FRUIT CROP.—Reports from various portions of the State indicate that the apple crop will prove a partial failure, the total yield being almost one-half less than last season. The plum, prune, pear and peach crop will be quite or nearly up to the average yield of past years. The season thus far has been most propitious for the growth of apples, and the partial failure is attributable to a fly which is said to destroy the fruit before the blossom

TELEGRAPHIC MELANGE.

MOST IMPORTANT ITEMS IN YESTERDAY'S DISPATCHES.

An Attack on Grant.

New York, September 19.—The World says General Grant has been bitterly attacked by a correspondent of the Dublin Freeman, who urges leading Catholics to stand aloof from his reception, because he publicly insulted the Irish nation by refusing to accept its congratulatory address; because he spoke so much about priestly influence and priestcraft in education in his message in 1875, and because he has expressed his anxiety to see and shake hands with Garibaldi.

The President in Indiana.

JEFFERSONVILLE, Ind., Sept. 19.—The President arrived from Louisville at 3 P. M. yesterday, and was greeted by a vast concourse of enthusiastic people, to whom he made a brief address. He was entertained hospitably during his stay, and expressed himself well pleased with the trip.

Resumption of Iron Making.

PITTSBURGH, Penn., September 19.—The American iron works, employing 2,000 men and H. Lloyd, Son & Co.'s iron mills, employing 1,000 men, resumed work this morning.

Harry Meiggs Reported Dying.

PANAMA, September 19.—News from Peru to August 27 says that Henry Meiggs was very ill and not expected to live. The whole Peruvian community was in distress at the prospect of his death.

The Extra Session.

New York, Sept. 18.—A World Washington special remarks a concurrence of opinion among Senators and members of Congress who have been in the city during the past few days, engaging quarters for the winter and looking after their department business, that the extra session will be confined mainly to the purpose for a bill making appropriations for the army for the present fiscal year, and to provide for the deficiency in the payment of the navy.

Dog Show.—Arrangements are being completed, says the San Francisco Chronicle, for a grand Dog Fair or bench show, to be given under the auspices and immediate direction of the leading sporting men of California. The Mechanics' pavilion has been engaged for the purpose, and the exhibition will probably be opened upon the middle or end of October. The first exhibitions of dogs were started in London, at the Crystal Palace, and at the Agricultural hall at Islington, and were exceedingly attractive, the attendance being enormous. New York and Boston followed in the wake and at the bench shows held in those cities a display of dogs of all breeds, rivaling the exhibitions from which they originated, met with the most unbounded success. As California is known to possess more species of canines than any other State, the interest which will be shown will be great. Every breed of dog will be on exhibition, including the mastiff, Newfoundland, Dalmatian or coach dog, English, Irish and Gordon setters, pointers, spaniels, retrievers, shepherd dog, greyhounds and every species down to the most minute specimen of lap and poodle dog and Italian greyhound. Al. Watts, the most renowned dog fancier perhaps in the world, has been engaged to superintend the exhibition. His experience in the management of such exhibitions extends to all the dog shows from which the proposed California show is modeled. It is intended to give over $5,000 in premiums, and the awarding committee will be chosen from the most prominent and competent citizens.

The first annual meeting of the stockholders of the Grand Prize Mining Company was held Tuesday afternoon. The following were elected Trustees for the ensuing year: G. W. Grayson, M. Herman, E. Williams, E. M. Hall and J. H. McDonald. The mine, according to Col. Grayson, is now prepared to increase its bullion yield, and it is his belief dividends will be uninterrupted for many months to come.

From statistics contained in the annual report of the quarantine officer of San Francisco it appears that the Chinese coming to our shores during the period of one year were only 1480 in excess of those returning home.

JOHN OVERMAN, the original locator of the Overman mine, is at present visiting the Comstock lode after

THE COMSTOCK.

The Gold Hill News of last evening says:

Human life is not more chequered and uncertain than the stock market at the present time. Nobody appears to know just what to do, consequently small dealers especially, keep their money moving, buying on short turns, and when they find they are winning or losing, they don't wait to win or lose much. There is little to say in the way of new ore developments and prospects at present. Justice, Overman and Julia are showing improvement, but the main substantial improvement is in the great bonanza of the Consolidated Virginia and California, which shows constant improvement in both size and quality as further developed. The C. and C. drift, at the 1650-foot level, having been started again toward the west wall of the great ore channel, has passed through the small horse of porphyry in which it was stopped, and as was predicted by all experts and mining men nearly a year ago, it has run into another vein of good ore. It was recorded at that time that this drift would have from 50 to 80 feet yet to run in order to reach the west wall, and if this view is correct it has thirty or forty feet yet to run, and as it is still in ore, more ore may be expected.
